

The working world of the future poses new challenges of various kinds for companies. Increasing complexity and a dynamic environment are increasing the pressure to innovate and cut costs. Swisscom's Enterprise Workspace makes it easier for companies to access digital workplace solutions for both IT administration and end users.

The Modern Workspace solution in one place – accessible to all and individually set up.

What does Enterprise Workspace include?

With Enterprise Workspace, Swisscom integrates all existing workplace and collaboration solutions and makes them available in a central portal, the well-known "My Swisscom Business" portal. IT administrators can freely configure this portal according to the needs of their company and the existing groups of people (e.g. business unit, function or team level). Employees can set up their workplaces flexibly and are independent of location and time. This gives them more autonomy in their workplace design, while IT managers maintain an overview.

Your benefits with Enterprise Workspace

- Relief for (IT) staff
With Enterprise Workspace, you need less expertise to enrich your cloud landscape. Thanks to the uniform central portal, IT managers retain an overview of the required infrastructure while increased security requirements can be supplemented by additional options.
- Easy access for employees
Employees always have access to the latest software wherever they are. The required hardware can be set up autonomously via self-service and can be reused without any problems.
- Everything from a single source
Benefit from Swisscom's experience and know-how and enjoy professional support.
- Transparent costs
The high degree of standardisation of the offering gives you an overall view of your costs so you can easily control and plan them.

Ready for the flow – everything from a single source
